

Dear

I am Michael L. Pyle, Business Relations Manager for ICICI Bank UK PLC, am getting in touch with you regarding the estate of a deceased client with similar last name and an investment placed under our banks management. I would respectfully request that you keep the contents of this letter confidential and respect the integrity of the information you come by as a result of this letter. I contact you independently and no one is informed of this communication.

In 2013, the subject matter, late Mr. , came to our bank to engage in business discussions with our private banking division. He informed us that he had a financial portfolio of 18.35 million United States dollars, which he wished to have us invest on his behalf. Based on my advice, we spun the money around various opportunities and made attractive margins for our first months of operation, the accrued profit and interest stood at this point at over 22.35 million United States Dollars. Ending of-2014, he instructed that the principal sum (18.35M) be liquidated because he needed to make an urgent investment requiring cash payments in Hong Kong. We got in touch with a specialist bank in Hong Kong the Dah Sing Bank (DSB) who agreed to receive this money for a fee and make cash available to late Alfred Begert.

However Dah Sing Bank got in touch with us last three months that this money has not been claimed. On further enquiries we found out that Mr. Alfred Begert was involved in an accident in Mainland China, which means he died intestate. He has no next of kin and the reason I am writing you is because you are of the same similar last name.

What I propose is that since I have exclusive access to his file, you will be made the beneficiary of these funds. My bank will contact you informing you that money has been willed to you. On verification, which will be the details I make available to my bank, you do not have to know the deceased. I know this might be a bit heavy for you but please trust me on this. For all your troubles I propose that we split the money in half. In the banking circle this happens every time. The other option is that if no one comes to claim the money it will revert back to the state.

Nobody is getting hurt; this is a lifetime opportunity for us. I hold the KEY to these funds, and as a banker I see so much cash and funds being re-assigned daily. I would want us to keep communication for now strictly by email and my private phone line available below.

Please, again, note I am a family man; I have a wife and children. I send you this letter not without a measure of fear as to the consequences, but I know within me that nothing ventured is nothing gained and that success and riches never come easy or on a platter of gold. This is the one truth I have learned from my private banking clients. Do not betray my confidence. If we can be of one accord, we should act swiftly on this. Please pardon my writing mistakes.

Always feel free to contact me on my personal email: michaell.pyle@gmail.com and also call me on Tel: +447442377060 to confirm you received my letter and also forward your direct telephone numbers on your reply for efficient communication. I do expect your prompt response, thanks for your anticipated cooperation.

Please get back to me immediately via email.

I await your response.

Best Regards,
Michael L. Pyle
